OPENING 2003: HALLIBURTON PLAZA

Halliburton Plaza, a fan-friendly outdoor park that will highlight the histories of the Houston Astros and Houston's third largest employer Halliburton, will open for the start of the 2003 season. The plaza will be located on the Crawford Streetside of Minute Maid Park between the Left Field and Center Field entrances.

Designed by The Office of Jim Burnett, Halliburton Plaza will showcase the history of the Houston Astros franchise from its beginning as the Colt.45s in 1962. The park will feature an Astros history wall recording monumental occurrences in franchise history; championship pennants; a nod to the site as Houston's original railroad station; and a Halliburton history wall. Perhaps the most distinguishing characteristics of Halliburton Plaza, however, will be larger-than-life statues of current Astros stars Jeff Bagwell and Craig Biggio positioned on one-half of a regulation-sized baseball diamond.

Halliburton, through its subsidiary KBR, managed construction of Minute Maid Park for the Houston Astros, pioneering advanced retractable roof technology. Minute Maid Park was the third sports stadium Halliburton helped build for Houston – a triple play that included constructing Rice Stadium and portions of the Houston Astrodome.

HISTORY

The Astros in Action Foundation was formally introduced to the public on September 16, 2000, at the Jim Rome World Tour Stop #22 held at Minute Maid Park. During the event, fans were encouraged to participate in a silent auction that included local and national sports celebrity memorabilia. Fans also made donations to the Astros in Action Foundation as they entered the ballpark. In a matter of two hours, nearly $10,000 was raised to help "field the dreams of Houston."

Whenever the call for help has gone out, the Astros in Action Foundation has responded. Over the past three years alone, the foundation has donated hundreds of thousands of dollars to such worthy causes as assisting the victims of Tropical Storm Allison and the 9/11 attacks, helping the Enron Employee Transition Fund, and endowing the Houston Astros Adolescent Patient Waiting Area at M.D. Anderson Cancer Hospital.

2003 HOUSTON ASTROS MEDIA GUIDE | ASTROS IN THE COMMUNITY

GRAND SLAM FOR YOUTH

OUR MISSION

Grand Slam for Youth will make it easier for boys and girls to play, learn about and experience baseball, thus providing self-confidence, teamwork, involvement and fun to area kids.

OVERVIEW

The Houston Astros and The Minute Maid Company have partnered together in a four-part program designed to bring the benefits of the national pastime to the young people of Greater Houston. Called "Grand Slam for Youth," the program was created to make it easier for boys and girls to play, learn about and experience baseball, thus providing self-confidence, teamwork, involvement and fun to area kids.

In addition to behind-the-scenes support and coordination, the direct Minute Maid dollar commitment to Grand Slam for Youth will total $100,000 annually. The Houston Astros, through the Astros in Action Foundation, will complement the youth baseball program by committing fund-raising assistance, game tickets, player appearances, and use of the Minute Maid Park.

HISTORY

On June 5, 2002, the Houston Astros and The Minute Company announced that they had "expanded their relationship to create a long-term marketing and community partnership." The agreement called for the ballpark to be rechristened Minute Maid Park; the continuation of the Minute Maid Squeeze Play; extended pouring rights, advertising, and marketing; and a commitment "to support youth baseball programs in the Houston area."

Out of that commitment to youth by both companies came Grand Slam for Youth. The program was officially announced on August 20, 2002, on the occasion of the unveiling of the large Minute Maid Park sign in center field.

FOUR-PART PROGRAM

Grand Slam for Youth comprises the following four components:

Sponsor the City of Houston Youth Baseball Program

The sponsorship will provide all of the group's uniforms, in addition to needed equipment and supplies. The free City program is open to children who play T-ball, baseball and softball. More than 3,100 Houston-area boys and girls will benefit from the sponsorship each year.

Refurbish youth ball fields

The Astros and Minute Maid will refurbish one youth ball field each year by providing landscaping, renovating facilities or helping with other needs. The organizations will work with city and youth organizations to determine where needs are the greatest. Employees of both organizations will assist in the efforts. The application process for this program will be announced during the 2003 season.

Create a community outreach educational program

The two companies will develop a community outreach educational program that combines the Astros baseball expertise and Minute Maid's nutrition knowledge. The goal is to provide boys and girls throughout Greater Houston with educational information and tools for math, science and healthy living.

Develop unique fund-raising opportunities

Both organizations will develop unique fund-raising opportunities for youth baseball and softball groups, providing better experiences for more children. An example is the development of a Grand Slam for Youth-branded concession stand at Minute Maid Park in conjunction with ARAMARK. The stand will be staffed by youth baseball/softball volunteers (ages 16 and over) during Astros games, with portions of the proceeds going to the leagues. This program will begin during the 2003 season.

DRAYTON MCLANE

Chairman and Chief Executive Officer

In his 11th year as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Houston Astros Baseball Club, Drayton McLane has led the Astros and the city of Houston to what can be called the pinnacle of baseball excitement. The completion of the Astros 40,950-seat, state-of-the-art ballpark and the first three seasons at Minute Maid Park serve as milestones in the organization's rich history and reflect a new era of baseball in the Bayou City.

Minute Maid Park has brought with it a new surge of energy to the downtown area and it is a salute to the city's rich history. Adjacent to historic Union Station, the street-level ballpark has been designed to blend harmoniously into the diversity of its surroundings. Since construction began in 1998, the development around the ballpark has increased tremendously and has had a positive economic impact on the surrounding area.

The Houston Astros have enjoyed remarkable success on the field in recent years, winning the National League Central Division title in four of the last six seasons. Another highlight in his tenure occurred in 2001, as the Astros were named Organization of the Year by four outlets: TOPPS, Sportsticker, Baseball America and Baseball Weekly. The division titles and recognition this ballclub has experienced have been rewarding, however McLane remains committed to leading the Astros to a World Series championship.

During his 11 years in Major League Baseball, Drayton has served on several MLB committees, including the Executive Committee, Legislative Affairs, Ownership and Realignment committees, and the MLB Advanced Media committee. The success of the Astros has not been limited to the playing field. When he purchased the team, one of Drayton's main goals was to help make a positive difference in the community. This dream is being realized through both the players and the tront office staff. The Astros in Action Foundation was founded in 2000 and has served in thousands of community projects, which work to strengthen our community. The Astros organization attends charity events, visits children's hospitals and hosts underprivileged children at the ballpark. Drayton also serves on a number of boards and committees. He is actively involved with the Children's Miracle Network, Cooper Institute for Aerobics Research, Greater Houston Partnership, and the United Way. He serves as Chairman of the Board of Scott and White Hospital and Baylor University, as well as providing leadership as an officer of the executive committee of the National Boy Scouts of America.

After receiving his graduate degree, Drayton began working in the family business, the McLane Company, a grocery distribution firm that began as a small company in Cameron, Texas. It has now grown into an international firm that has 18 divisions throughout the United States and distributes to more than 55,000 convenience stores and fast-food restaurants. Drayton worked his way through the ranks, beginning in the warehouse. Before merging the business with Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. in 1991, Drayton had served as the company's President, Chief Executive Officer, and Chairman of the Board. He now devotes his time to McLane Group, the family holding company for M-C McLane International, M-Group Systems, McLane Espana, McLane Polska, McLane Portugal, Classic Foods, Leading Edge Brands, Hometown Favorites, Lone Star Plastics, CSP Magazine, and the Houston Astros.

Over the years, Drayton has received many significant awards, most recently the Distinguished Leadership Award from Leadership Houston last year, and in 2000 the Father of the Year Award from the Houston Community Partners. In addition, he was presented with the Herbert Hoover Award from Food Distributors International in 1998, and he was honored with the Golden Plate Award in 1997 from the American Academy of Achievement. He also received an honorary doctorate from Michigan State University and was inducted into the Texas Business Hall of Fame and the Texas Baseball Hall of Fame.

Drayton and his wife, Elizabeth, reside in Temple, Texas. They have two sons, Drayton III and Denton, both of whom are graduates of Baylor University. They are active members of First Baptist Church of Temple, where he teaches Sunday School and currently serves as an active deacon. His previous responsibilities in the church include chairing the deacon board.

TAL SMITH

President, Baseball Operations

Having witnessed the birth of two baseball stadiums during his storied baseball career, Tal Smith is the main link between the Astros past and present as the club continues a new era in Houston.

Tal was a vital aide to owner Drayton McLane and to the interests of the club throughout the many stages of development of the Astros fabulous new baseball facility, Minute Maid Park. The new ballpark's field dimensions and unique angles were designed with Tal's input and assistance. Center field boasts a 10-degree hill - "Tal's Hill" - a tribute to his creativity and contribution to the Minute Maid Park project. Tal filled a similar role in ballpark development in 1963 when he became assistant to the president of the Houston Sports Association, acting primarily as a liason for HSA during the construction of the Astrodome, a project which changed the face of stadiums and the city of Houston forever.

Tal returned to the Houston organization on Nov. 22, 1994, when he was named president of the club. Since 1981, he has been owner and operator of Houston-based Tal Smith Enterprises, a firm which provides consulting services and performs specialized functions for professional baseball clubs and other sports interests.

Before forming his own company, he worked for 23 years in management and administrative positions with Major League clubs, including president and general manager of the Astros and executive vice president of the New York Yankees. Widely respected by his peers thoroughout the country, Tal was chosen as one of 25 panelists by Baseball America in 1999 to provide an overview of baseball in the 20th century, highlighting the greatest feats, personalities and records in the game during the past 100 years.

Tal was the primary architect of Houston's first playoff club, the 1980 NL West Division champs. That season was followed by a dramatic five-game NLCS against the Phillies in which the last four games went into extra innings, leaving Houston six outs short of its first trip to the World Series. For his efforts, he was recognized by The Sporting News as the Major League Executive of the Year. The average age of the players on the 1980 club was the second-youngest in the National League, and the team also had the lowest payroll in the NL that season.

Tal started his baseball career in the farm department of the Cincinnati Reds in 1958. He came to Houston in November of 1960 when he was named assistant to the general manager of the new National League franchise. He was named farm director of the Colt .45s in April, 1961 and held that post for two years. In April, 1963, he became assistant to the president of the Houston Sports Association, acting primarily as liaison for HSA during the construction of the Astrodome. During the first of Tal's three terms with the Houston franchise, the club signed and developed more players that reached the Major Leagues than any other team.

Following completion of the Astrodome, Tal was named vice president and director of player personnel in December 1965. In 1972, he was named vice president and director of operations for Astrodome-Astrohall Stadium corporation. In November 1973, he left Houston to become executive vice president of the New York Yankees, serving in that capacity until his return to Houston as general manager of the Astros in August 1975. He was named president of the club on Sept. 23, 1976.

Tal was born in 1933 in Framingham, Mass. He attended Culver (IN) Military Academy and Duke University, where he earned a bachelor of arts degree in business administration in 1955. Following graduation, he served as an officer in the United States Air Force for two years. He was inducted into the Culver Academies Athletic Hall of Fame on Sept. 28, 1996.

Tal was inducted into the Texas Baseball Hall of Fame on Nov. 4, 1998. He was presented with the Fred Hartman Long and Meritorious Service Award by the Houston chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America in 1993.

Tal and his wife, Jonnie, make their home in Houston. They have two children, Valerie and Randy, and two grandsons, Quinn and Shane. Tal's son Randy is a former general manager of the San Diego Padres (1993-95) and Detroit Tigers (1996-2000). Randy became the youngest general manager in Major League Baseball history when he was appointed to that position by the Padres in 1993 at age 29. Randy presently serves as an advisor to the general manager of the Padres.

PAM GARDNER

President, Business Operations

Pam Gardner returned to the Astros as President of Business Operations on August 20, 2001, and is now in her 14th season with the Astros organization. She was most recently Senior Vice President of Sales and Marketing and was named to that post on July 22, 1999. While in that position, she directed all aspects of the Astros marketing operations, game presentation, advertising and tickets, including all group, season, and individual game sales.

Pam joined the team in 1989 as Director of Communications before being promoted to Director of Marketing in November of 1994. She was named the club's Vice President of Marketing on May 31, 1996. Pam was instrumental in the design and development of Minute Maid Park in addition to leading the marketing efforts of both the new ballpark and the team's inaugural season. She played many influential roles, including the design and launch of the Astros new logo and uniforms in both 1994 and 2000.

During her tenure, she has supervised the club's marketing and advertising campaigns, including 1999's "A Season to Remember," as she headed up the Astros year-long nostalgic look back at "35 Great Years" in the Astrodome. Her efforts allowed the Astros to break the franchise attendance record in three consecutive seasons from 1998-2000, including the 3,056,139 fans that passed through the turnstiles in Minute Maid Park's inaugural season in 2000.

A native of Green Bay, Wisc., and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Stout, Pam joined the Astros after working for 10 years with an advertising and public relations agency in Chicago. She spent the last five years at the agency as its Vice President of the entertainment division. She currently serves on the board of the Astros in Action Foundation which works to enhance the quality of life in our community. She was also recently named to the board of the Houston Area Women's Center which provides shelter and support services to survivors of domestic and sexual violence.

GERRY HUNSICKER

General Manager

In Gerry Hunsicker's seven seasons as the general manager of the Houston Astros, few teams in Major League Baseball have enjoyed greater success. Since 1996, Hunsicker's first campaign as general manager, the Astros are sixth in wins and seventh in winning percentage among all MLB clubs.

It took Hunsicker only two seasons to build a championship-caliber team in Houston, and through his aggressive leadership, he formed a nucleus to carry the team to four National Central Division championships in five seasons from 1997-2001. Since he was named general manager on Nov. 10, 1995, the Astros have posted a record of 614-520, a winning percentage of ,541. Only four general managers have been in their current post longer than Hunsicker.

On Dec. 18, 2002, Hunsicker and the Astros took another step in their quest for a World Series championship with the signing of free-agent Jeff Kent. One of the top hitters during the past several years, Kent joins the Astros after driving in 100 or more runs during each of the last six seasons. Kent should make an already potent Astros lineup one of the league's best this season. The Kent signing headlined an off-season in which Hunsicker also signed veteran right-hander Brian Moehler, re-signed Shane Reynolds and negotiated a contract extension with Craig Biggio that could keep the franchise icon in an Astros uniform through 2005.

In 1998, Hunsicker assembled what had been called the best team in the history of the Houston franchise, and it seemed only fitting that he was named The Sporting News' Executive of the Year upon conclusion of the season. What the '98 season will likely be best-remembered for is the addition of former Cy Young Award winner Randy Johnson, whom Hunsicker acquired in a trade with the Seattle Mariners on July 31 just minutes before the non-waiver trading deadline had passed. Johnson went 10-1 with a 1.28 ERA in the final two months of the season.

Hunsicker has added and retained several key components to the club's roster. Following the 2000 campaign, the Astros signed franchise icon Jeff Bagwell to a five-year contract extension, ensuring the team's greatest slugger will remain in an Astros uniform for several years to come. In addition, the trade for Brad Ausmus has been important to the pitching staff's improvement over the past two seasons, as the catcher's influence has been considerable. Ausmus' defensive prowess in 2001 and again in 2002 made him the first Rawlings Gold Glove Award winner in at catcher Houston franchise history.

Hunsicker also signed other important players to contract extensions: Shane Reynolds in December 1998 and closer Billy Wagner in January 2002. The club also inked slugger Richard Hidalgo to a long-term deal following his 44-homer season in 2000.

Following the 1999 season, Hunsicker acquired Octavio Dotel, who has been one the game's most dominant relievers over the last two seasons and led all Major League relievers in innings pitched and strikeouts in 2002.

Hunsicker bolstered the club's chances last season in late August by acquiring veteran right-hander Flash Gordon from the Cubs and infielder Mark Loretta from Milwaukee. Loretta hit .424 after joining the Astros and Gordon was a dependable reliever down the stretch

Hunsicker's efforts to further the Astros on their path continued with the hiring of respected baseball veteran Jimy Williams as the Astros' 15th manager on Nov. 1, 2001. After the hiring of Williams, Hunsicker also agreed to the contract extensions with Berkman and Wagner, re-signed Jose Vizcaino and Orlando Merced, and added free agents in outfielder Brian Hunter and catcher Gregg Zaun.

In addition to Johnson and Ausmus, others who Hunsicker traded for or signed as free agents who were major contributors to the division champion clubs include Moises Alou, Vinny Castilla, Vizcaino, Mike Williams, Merced, Carl Everett and Daryle Ward.

Hunsicker's key acquisitions during the 1997-98 and 1998-99 off-seasons solidified him as a most deserving candidate for the Executive of the Year Award. In trading for Alou and Everett, the Astros had superior offensive production which led them through a 102-win season and team record-breaking numbers in such categories as home runs, RBI and runs scored in '98. Shortly after taking over his current post as General Manager, Hunsicker wasted no time building the 1996 team by resigning then-free agent Biggio and acquiring third baseman Sean Berry in a trade with Montreal. While battling St. Louis for the NL Central crown that year, he acquired seven players by trades or free agent signings, and dipped into the organization's talent pool using no less than seven rookies, including closer Wagner.

Throughout the 1999 campaign, Hunsicker was forced to place a record number of players on the disabled list and saw his entire Opening Day lineup, with the exception of mainstays Biggio and Bagwell, succumb to injury at least once during the season. Despite so many ailments, the Astros claimed their third consecutive NL Central crown.

With respect for the history of the Houston organization and building a team designed to play in the Astrodome, Hunsicker named former Astros pitcher and broadcast analyst Larry Dierker the club's manager on Oct. 4, 1996. Dierker won four division championships in five seasons.

In December of 1996, the club consummated a 10-player trade with Detroit which brought Ausmus, Jose Lima, C.J. Nitkowski, Trever Miller and Ward, all of whom appeared on Houston's active roster in 1998.

2003 HOUSTON ASTROS MEDIA GUIDE | FRONT OFFICE

But perhaps Hunsicker's greatest impact on the Houston franchise has been his commitment to player development. The club's efforts in player development and scouting is personified in the array of young talent that has arrived in Houston through the minor league system, particularly on the pitching staff.

The team's player development accomplishments were recognized in 2001, when the Houston Astros were named Organization of the Year by Baseball America, Baseball Weekly, Topps and SportsTicker. The Astros' reputation of having one of the most respected farm systems in the game was reinforced by those honors.

The philosophy of player development set in place by Hunsicker is embedded in the commitment to produce winning Major League players. Along with their development and maturation as both players and people, Astros farmhands are learning how to win as well. Each of the club's minor league affiliates has won championships at least once during the last six seasons, from Triple A on down to the rookie level.

The list of players drafted and developed by the Astros during the Hunsicker era reads as a virtual who's who of the game's brightest young stars. Outfielder Lance Berkman has made two consecutive All-Star appearances and led the National League in runs batted in during the 2002 season. Berkman was signed to a multi-year deal in January of 2002. Homegrown right-handers Wade Miller and Roy Oswalt form one of the game's top one-two starting pitcher combinations, and both were drafted and developed by the Astros during Hunsicker's tenure.

Since the beginning of the 2001 season, Miller and Oswalt are a combined 64-24. Other homegrown contributors to the Astros cause in recent years include Carlos Hernandez, Jason Lane, Brad Lidge, Julio Lugo, Tim Redding, and Kirk Saarloos. In addition, the club's scouting acumen added Brandon Puffer and Ricky Stone, a pair of relatively anonymous minor league free agents, during the past two seasons. Both played a significant role in the bullpen in 2002, and Stone tied the National League rookie record for appearances with 78, the fifth-highest total of any Astros pitcher during a single season in franchise history.

Hunsicker returned to Houston after working as the No. 2 man in the baseball operations area of the New York Mets where, from Sept. 27, 1991, his duties were to assist the general manager in all phases of New York's Major and minor league operations. He joined the Mets in November 1988 as director of minor league operations, then became the director of baseball operations on Oct. 14, 1990, with responsibilities for scouting, player development and assisting with the Major League club.

Hunsicker filled a number of roles with the Astros from 1978-81, including traveling secretary, minor league pitching coach, scout and assistant to the general Manager, From 1981-83, he worked for Tal Smith Enterprises in Houston and was involved in preparing salary arbitration cases. From 1984 until joining the Mets, he left baseball to join the securities industry and was a vice president for paine webber in Houston.

Born in Collegeville, Pa., the 52-year-old Hunsicker was a three-sport standout in high school and was captain of his baseball, basketball and football teams. He attended St. Joseph's University on a baseball scholarship and was named to the All-Mid-Allantic Conference team as both a pitcher and an outfielder. He earned his bachelor of science degree in 1972. In 1998, he was inducted into the SJU Baseball Hall of Fame, and on Oct. 21, 2000, Hunsicker was inducted into the school's Athletic Hall of Fame.

Hunsicker was inducted into the Texas Baseball Hall of Fame in November 2002.

From 1973-78, he was pitching coach and assistant athletic director at Florida International University, where he also earned his master's degree.

Hunsicker and his wife, Irene, have one daughter, Kelly.

2003 HOUSTON ASTROS MEDIA GUIDE | FRONT OFFICE

TIM PURPURA

Assistant General Manager/Director of Player Development

Tim Purpura is in his 10th year as a member of the Astros organization and his sixth season overseeing the club's player development areas, while also fulfilling his duties as Assistant General Manager.

During the past five years, the Astros minor league affiliates have won a league championship at each of the Triple A, Double A, Class A and Rookie levels. In 2001, the quality of the Astros' player development operations was honored with the club earning Organization of the Year honors from Baseball America, Baseball Weekly, Topps, and Sportsticker.

Since October 24, 1997, Tim has directed the operation of the club's player development system and six minor league affiliates. The quality of a player development system is ultimately judged by the Major League success of the players it produces, and in the past four seasons, homegrown players such as two-time All-Star and 2002 NL RBI leader Lance Berkman, Roy Oswalt, Wade Miller, and Richard Hidalgo have been standouts at the big league level. Nine pitchers have made their Major League debut in an Astros uniform during the last two seasons, including Oswalt, who finished fourth in the NL Cy Young voting in 2002 and has 33 wins in two big league seasons.

Tim also assists General Manager Gerry Hunsicker with all aspects of Major League operations, including player trades and free-agent acquisitions, contract negotiations and coordination of Major League scouting efforts. Beginning with the 2003 season, Tim will add responsibility for supervision of the Astros operations in the Dominican Republic.

Tim, 45, has served in several capacities since joining the club in January of 1994, including Assistant Director of Minor League Operations and Director of Player Relations. He joined the Astros after spending two seasons as a founding member of the staff of the Arizona Fall League, a successful developmental league operated by Major League Baseball that serves as a finishing school for top prospects.

He worked as an assistant in player development for the California Angels during spring training from 1990-92 and headed special projects for the San Diego Padres minor league department in 1991.

A native of Oak Lawn, III., Purpura received a bachelor of science degree from Loyola University of Chicago in 1983 and earned a law degree from the Thomas Jefferson School of Law in San Diego in 1992.

Tim and his wife, Shari, make their home in Richmond, Texas.

ANDRES REINER

Special Assistant to the General Manager

Andres Reiner, the founder of Houston's highly successful baseball academy in Venezuela, enters his sixth year as the special assistant to General Manager Gerry Hunsicker for International Scouting and Development. He was named to his position on July 17, 1997.

Starting his career as the organization's scout in Venezuela, Andres convinced the club to start an academy in this country similar to ones operated for many years by Major League teams in the Dominican Republic. The goal of the Venezuelan academy, based in Valencia, is to not only find promising young players and develop their baseball skills, but to also instruct them in English language classes, nutrition, social skills and basic finance.

Since the academy produced its first prospect in 1990 after opening on Aug. 1, 1989, more than 85 players have been signed by the Astros out of the program. Through the 2002 season, a total of 16 academy products, including Bobby Abreu, Raul Chavez, Roberto Petagine, Edgar Ramos, Richard Hidalgo, Manuel Barrios, Oscar Henriquez, Melvin Mora, catcher Carlos Hernandez, Freddy Garcia, Carlos Guillen, Johan Santana, Donaldo Mendez, Felix Escalona, pitcher Carlos Hernandez and Wilfredo Rodriguez - have already played for Major League teams.

Andres oversees the development of new international markets for Houston. The Astros now have 19 international scouts in countries which include Venezuela, the Dominican Republic, and Colombia.

Andres and his wife for 44 years, Carmina, have three children: sons Robert and Andres, and daughter Sylvia. The entire family resides in Houston.

BARRY WATERS

Director of Baseball Administration

Barry Waters returns for his 19th season of overseeing all aspects of Astros travel and accomodations across the country. 2003 HOUSTON ASTROS MEDIA GUIDE

2003 HOUSTON ASTROS MEDIA GUIDE | COACHING STAFF

The Houston Astros turned to one of the game's foremost teachers when Jimy Williams was named the franchise's 13th manager on Nov. 1, 2001.

Born on Oct. 4, 1943 in Arroyo Grande, California, the 59-year-old Williams has a career big league record of 779-671 (.537), ranking tied for third in winning percentage among active Major League managers with at least 400 games. Williams has 36 years of professional baseball experience, with the past 26 as a coach or manager. He guided the Astros to a 84-78 record and a second-place finish in the NL Central during his first season at the helm.

He became the Boston Red Sox' 41st manager on Nov. 19, 1996. From 1997 until Aug. 16, 2001, Williams guided the club to a 414-352 (.540) record and three consecutive second-place finishes from 1998-2000. The Red Sox were 65-53 (.551) and in second place under Williams in 2001.

During his stint in Boston, Williams guided the Red Sox to consecutive Wild Card berths in 1998 and 1999, their first backto-back postseason appearances since their World Championship teams of 1915-16. He was named the American League Manager of the Year in 1999.

Williams returned to the National League, where he served from 1990-96 as the Atlanta Braves third base coach. Before joining Atlanta, Williams was the manager of the Toronto Blue Jays from 1986 through May 14, 1989. He compiled a 281-241 record (.538) as the skipper of the Blue Jays, including finishing just two games behind the East Division leader in both 1987 and 1988. Williams is third among Toronto managers in wins.

He began his stint with Toronto as the third base and outfield coach. He remained third base coach in 1982, but switched from the outfield to the infield defensive coach. He held those roles until he was named manager for the 1986 season when Bobby Cox left the Blue Jays to become Atlanta's general manager.

Williams graduated from Arroyo Grande (Calif.) HS and Fresno State University with a bachelor's degree in agribusiness (animal science). His last two years at Fresno State, he was an All-California Collegiate All-Star.

In 1963-64, he played at Sturgis, San Diego in the semi-pro Basin League, where he was scouted and later signed as a shortstop by Red Sox scouts Glenn Wright and Bobby Doerr. He began his playing career at Waterloo of the Midwest League in 1965, led the league's shortstops in fielding percentage and was named to the All-Star team. That began a seven-year pro playing career that was shortened by a shoulder injury during the winter of 1969.

In December 1965, he was drafted by St. Louis from the Red Sox Triple A Roster and spent 1966 with the Cardinals despite being in the Army Reserves the last two months of the season. He struck out in his first Major League at-bat vs. Sandy Koufax, but got his first hit off another Hall of Famer, Juan Marichal.

He played 14 Major League games with St. Louis in 1966-67 and was with the Cardinals during their 1967 September drive to the N.L. Pennant. In 1968, Willliams was traded to Cincinnati with catcher Pat Corrales for catcher Johnny Edwards, and in 1969, he was selected by the Montreal Expos in the N.L. expansion draft.

Williams retired as an active player in 1971, and obtained his first managing job for the Angels' Quad Cities club in the Midwest League in 1974, leading the team to first place in the Southern Division's first half. In six years of minor league managing, Williams' teams had five winning seasons including a 90-54 record and first-place finish in 1976 at Salt Lake City of the AAA Pacific Coast League. In 1979, his second stint at Salt Lake, he was 80-68 (.541) to finish second before winning the Pacific Coast League playoff championship by sweeping Albuquerque and Hawaii.

He and his wife, the former Peggy Sallee, have four children, Monica Jean, Brady Charles, Shawn Thomas and Jenna Marie.

Although his uniform number 25 was retired on Oct. 3, 1992, that number remains on the field for the seventh year on the back of first base coach Jose "Cheo" Cruz.

His big league career spanned 18 seasons and included stints with St. Louis (1971-74), Houston (1975-1987) and the New York Yankees (1988).

The former outfielder has been involved with all seven of Houston's postseason appearances, three as a player (1980, '81 and '86) and four as a coach (1997-99, 01). Cruz made the first three trips into postseason play with the Astros as a player, including hitting .400 (6x15) in the dramatic five-game series against Philadelphia in the 1980 NLCS. He represented the Astros in the All-Star Game in 1980 at Los Angeles and 1985 at Minnesota.

Cruz had played in more games than any other player in the history of the Houston franchise (1,870) before being passed by Craig Biggio in 2001. In 2000, Cruz had a front row seat as Biggio surpassed many other of his long-standing franchise records, including at-bats, hits and total bases. Cruz's 80 triples remains the franchise record.

His uniform number was retired by the club along with former teammate Mike Scott's number 33 in 1992. They were the third and fourth numbers retired by the team. In 1999, Cruz was selected by a panel of experts as one of three outfielders on the franchise's All-Astrodome team.

After his playing career he spent time managing in the Texas-Louisiana League and the Puerto Rican Winter League. Cruz was one of three Houston coaches who was forced to take a leave of absence from the team during the 1999 season. He returned to the field on June 14 after missing 34 games because of an irregular heartbeat.

He and his wife Zoraida make their home in Houston. They have four children: Jose Javier, Jose Cheito, Sharika and Jose Enrique.

His son Jose Jr. was the first-round selection (third player overall) of the Seattle Mariners in the 1995 June free agent draft and currently plays for San Francisco. Jose Jr. graduated from Bellaire (TX) High School and attended Rice University. He led Bellaire to the number one national ranking by USA Today and was a finalist for the Golden Spikes Award at Rice.

Jose Enrique, a starter for Rice as well, is in his junior season with the nationally ranked Owls after enjoying a stellar career of his own at Bellaire.

2003 HOUSTON ASTROS MEDIA GUIDE | COACHING STAFF

Burt Hooton's vast baseball experience has already paid dividends in the tutelage of the Astros many talented pitching prospects who have recently arrived on the big league level. The Texas native joined the Astros coaching staff on June 23, 2000, after serving the first half of the season as pitching coach for Double A Round Rock. Hooton had spent the previous three seasons as the pitching coach at his alma mater, the University of Texas. He played in the Major Leagues for 15 years with the Chicago Cubs (1971-75), Los Angeles (1975-84) and Texas (1985). On April 16, 1972, as a 22-year-old rookie in his fourth big league start over two seasons, he threw a no-hitter for the Cubs against Philadelphia.

In 15 Major League seasons, Hooton compiled a record of 151-136 (.526) with 1,491 strikeouts over 2,652 innings pitched. Over 11 postseason games, Hooton was 6-3 with a 3.17 ERA. He was 3-3 in six World Series outings, posting a 3.70 ERA.

Following his junior year at UT, Hooton was drafted by the Chicago Cubs in the secondary phase of the 1971 draft and made his Major League debut nine days later. He fanned his first batter, Lou Brock, and went on to set a Cubs rookie record by striking out 15 batters in a game later that season. Hooton is just one of a handful of players to go directly to the big leagues after being drafted. Since Major League Baseball began its free agent draft in 1965, a total of 17 selections have advanced directly to the big leagues without playing in the minors.

He was traded to the Dodgers in 1975, pitching 10 seasons during which he recorded 11 or more wins seven times, and helped lead Los Angeles into post-season play three years. Hooton was 18-7 in 1975 after being traded to LA from the Cubs for pitchers Geoff Zahn and Eddie Solomon. He was 19-10 for the 1978 Dodgers, posting a 2.71 ERA over 32 starts.

After posting an 11-6 record and career-best 2.28 ERA during the regular season, he was named the MVP of the 1981 National League Championship Series vs. Montreal. He recorded two wins in two starts, during which he allowed no earned runs over 14.2 innings pitched. In the World Series that year, he won Game Six over the Yankees to clinch the title for the Dodgers. Overall, he was 4-1 with an 0.82 ERA in five postseason starts that season, including a win over the Astros in the third game of the 1981 Division Series.

A 1981 National League All-Star selection, Hooton completed his Major League playing career with the Texas Rangers in 1985. He returned to the game in 1988 as a coach for the Class A Salem team of the Northwest League. Two seasons later, Hooton became pitching coach for the Texas League's San Antonio Missions in the Dodgers organization. After five seasons with San Antonio, Hooton was promoted to pitching coach of the Dodgers' Triple A club at Albuquerque.

Hooton went 15-1 to lead Corpus Christi's Richard King High School to the Texas state title as a high school pitcher before beginning his career with the Longhorns. His dominating tenure at Texas culminated in a 35-3 record and 1.14 ERA. He is among UT's all-time pitching leaders in almost every category, including 13 career shutouts. He was the first pitcher ever to be named First Team All-American three consecutive seasons (1969-71).

From 1996-99, Hooton worked at his alma mater as pitching coach prior to joining the Round Rock staff in December of 1999. "Happy" Hooton and his wife Ginger reside in San Antonio during the off-season. The couple has two grown children.

He got his nickname from his former manager, Tommy Lasorda, because he seldom looked as if he were happy.

COACHING STAFF | 2003 HOUSTON ASTROS MEDIA GUIDE

Astros third base coach Gene Lamont returned to the National League in 2002 to continue to work alongside skipper Jimy Williams.

Lamont, who was the manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates from 1997-2000, served under Williams as the Red Sox' third base coach in 2001. A native of Rockford, Ill., Lamont has been in professional baseball since 1965.

As manager of the Pirates, he compiled a 295-352 (.456) record that included a second-place finish in the NL Central Division in 1997 and a third in 1999. In 1993, after leading the Chicago White Sox to the American League Western Division title, he was honored as the AL Manager of the Yeer. He managed the White Sox from 1992 through June 1, 1995 where he was 258-210 (.551). Chicago won the division title in 1993 with a 94-68 (.580) record and led the AL Central in 1994 with a 67-46 mark (.593) when the strike-shortened season ended in August.

Lamont was Pittsburgh's third base coach from 1986 through 1991 and again in 1996. On Oct. 3, 1996, he was named to replace Jim Leyland as the Pirates manager. In 1997, the Pirates were not eliminated from the NL Central Division race until the final weekend. For his efforts, Lamont was runner-up to San Francisco's Dusty Baker for Manager of the Year honors. While coaching third base for Pittsburgh, the Pirates won the NL Eastern Division title and appeared in the NLCS in 1990 and 1991. Lamont earned his 400th managerial win on Aug. 25, 1998 and served on Leyland's NL coaching staff at the All-Star Game in Denver on July 7, 1998.

He spent eight years as a minor league manager in the Kansas City Royals system upon retiring as an active player after the 1977 season. He began in 1978 by leading Class A Fort Myers to a 71-66 record and a playoff berth in the Florida State League. Following two seasons at Fort Myers, Lamont managed Double A Jacksonville for four years and was named Southern League Manager of the Year in 1982. In 1984-85, he managed Triple A Omaha of the American Association before joining Pittsburgh as third base coach in 1986.

In 1965, he was Detroit's first selection (13th overall) in the initial amateur June draft. On Sept. 2, 1970, he made his Major League debut as a catcher with the Tigers in Fenway Park and homered into the right field grandstand off Boston's Cal Koonce in his first at bat in the third inning, Detroit's only run in a 10-1 loss. Lamont played 87 games over five seasons with the Tigers and hit .233 with four HR and 14 RBI. On May 14, 1973, he was traded to Atlanta for catcher Bob Didier and that December, the Tigers reacquired him via the Rule 5 Major League Draft.

Gene William Lamont graduated from Hiawatha High School in Kirkland, III., where he was a three-sport letter winner in baseball, basketball and football. He was an All-State selection in basketball as a senior and attended Northern Illinois University and Western Illinois University. He was born on Christmas Day in 1946.

He and his wife Melody reside in Sarasota, Fla., in the off-season. They have two children, Melissa and Wade.

COACHING STAFF | 2003 HOUSTON ASTROS MEDIA GUIDE

Harry Spilman was named the Astros hitting coach on June 23, 2000 after serving two-and-a-half years as Houston's minor league field coordinator.

In 2001, Spilman oversaw a Houston offense that finished second in the National League in hitting (.271), second in runs (847) and RBI (805). The Astros hit 208 home runs, the fourth-best total in the NL. Last season, the club hit .262 and ranked fifth in the NL in runs (749) and tied for third in on-base percentage (.338). Only two teams, the Philadelphia Phillies and New York Yankees, were shut out fewer times than Houston's six in 2002.

Under Spilman's guidance in the second half of 2000, the Astros improved their team batting average. In the final three months of the 2000 campaign, the Astros recorded monthly team batting averages of .291 in July and .288 in August before peaking at .309 in September to end the year on a high note.

The 1999 campaign was a busy season for the former Major League infielder as he spent much of the summer on the big league level as the Astros' hitting coach when Tom McCraw was sidelined with health complications.

Spilman, who played in the Majors with the Reds (1978-81), Astros (1981-85, 88-89), Tigers (1986) and Giants (1986-88) during his 11-year big league career, returned to the Houston organization in 1998. He previously had served seven years as a minor league manager and roving hitting instructor for the Cleveland Indians.

The Georgia native and Indiana resident made his Major League debut with the Reds on Sept. 11, 1978. After playing in 43 games for Cincinnati's 1979 National League West Division title team, he played his first full big league season in 1980 with 65 games for the Reds. Spilman compiled a .237 batting average over his Major League career, appearing in postseason play following the 1979, '81 and '87 seasons.

Spilman was signed by the Reds as a free agent on June 25, 1974. He was named All-State in baseball from 1973-74 at the Terrell Academy in Dawson, Ga. His father, Harry Sr., was a catcher in the Dodgers minor league system. His father-in-law, Harley Grossman, was a pitcher for the 1952 Washington Senators.

He and his wife Kim have two children, Kelly and Ryan. The family resides in Mt. Vernon, Ind.

Former Major League player John Tamargo begins his fifth season with the Astros and his second as bench coach after serving three-plus campaigns as the club's bullpen coach. Tamargo was elevated to bench coach after Tony Pena left the club on May 15, 2002. The Tampa, Fla., native is in his seventh year overall with the organization.

A big league catcher from 1976-80, he has been in professional baseball since 1973. Tamargo joined the Houston system in 1997, managing Class A Kissimmee in the Florida State League and leading the Cobras to the second-half title. Tamargo moved to New Orleans the following season in 1998 and led the Zephyrs to the Triple A World Series championship, as they beat Buffalo in the best-of-five series, 3-1.

Before joining the Astros, Tamargo spent 11 years as a manager in the New York Mets minor league system (1983, 1987-1996) and took his teams to the postseason six times. He managed the Mets rookie club in the Gulf Coast League from 1988-90, Class A St. Lucie from 1991-1993 and Double A Binghamton from 1994-96.

In 1994, he guided Binghamton to the Eastern League Playoff championship. In 1993, he led St. Lucie of the Florida State League to the second-half title before the club lost the championship series to Clearwater. Overall, he lead St. Lucie to the FSL playoffs each season. After one season as a roving instructor in 1986, Tamargo managed Class A Lynchburg of the South Atlantic League in 1987. In just his second season as a manager, Tamargo guided Class A Columbia of the South Atlantic League to both the first and second half titles and an overall 88-54 record. He began his managerial career with Class A Miami in the Florida State League in 1982.

Tamargo was a lifetime .242 Major League hitter in 135 games with St. Louis (1976-78), San Francisco (1978-79) and Montreal (1979-80). He batted .275 in 37 games in his final big league season with the Expos in 1980. He was originally drafted by the Cardinals in the 1973 June free agent draft and reached the big leagues in 1976 with St. Louis. Tamargo played 65 games with Triple A Springfield in 1978 for manager Jimy Williams.

Tamargo graduated from Tampa High School, where the two-time team Most Valuable Player batted .421 and .475 in his final two seasons. He attended Miami Dade Community College and Georgia Southern College, where he was named MVP in 1971 and 1972. He was also second-team All-American in 1972. He and his wife Vilma have two sons, John Jr. and Jeff, and one grandson.

John Jr. has played the past seven seasons in the Mets minor league system. The younger Tamargo was the starting shortstop for the University of Florida and one of 60 finalists for the 1996 United States Olympic Baseball Team.

PRESENTED BY JOHN HANCOCK

ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARD

Since 1970, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award (originally known as "The Commissioner's Award") which recognizes the player who best exemplifies the game of baseball, sportsmanship, community involvement and the individual's contribution to his team. The award, now sponsored by John Hancock Financial Services, recognizes those individuals who truly understand the value of helping others.

In 1972, following the tragic death of Roberto Clemente, the award was renamed to honor the man whose spirit and goodwill will always be remembered. The 12-time All-Star and Hall of Famer, was killed in a plane crash New Year's Eve, 1972, delivering food and medical supplies to earthquake victims of Nicaragua.

Early in the season, each team will be asked to submit three candidates to a panel formed by John Hancock Financial Services. The panel will select a nominee from each club. A panel of baseball dignitaries, including Vera Clemente and Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig, will then select a winner from the list of 30 nominees. The winner of the Roberto Clemente Award will receive a $25,000 donation from John Hancock Financial Services for the local charity of his choice at an on-field ceremony during the World Series. John Hancock will also make a cash contribution to the Roberto Clemente Foundation and to each nominee's local charity.

Past winners include Jim Thome (2002), Curt Schilling, Al Leiter, Tony Gwynn, Sammy Sosa, Willie Mays, Lou Brock, Ozzie Smith, Cal Ripken, Jr., Kirby Puckett and others.

John Hancock is a proud sponsor of Major League Baseball and the title sponsor of The John Hancock All-Star FanFest, an interactive "Baseball Heaven on Earth" held in conjunction with MLB's All-Star Game.

THE 30-30 CLUB

Jeff Bagwell is the only player in Houston franchise history to reach the "30-30" mark, which he has accomplished twice. In 1997, he belted 43 homers and swiped 31 bases to become the first player in major league history to reach "30-30" while playing exclusively at first base. The only other "30-30" player in baseball history to also play first base was Cleveland's Joe Carter, who in 1987 played 84 games at first base and 62 games in the outfield, in addition to being a designated hitter. Carter hit 32 homers and stole 31 bases that year. In 1999, Bagwell hit 42 homers and recorded 30 stolen bases. One stolen base was recorded during a DH stint at Minnesota on June 6, 1999.

RAINED OUT AT THE ASTRODOME

Houston has had only four home games postponed because of rain since its entrance into the National League in 1962. The first three were "rained out" and all occurred in the first season when games were played in Colt Stadium (April 23 vs. Philadelphia, June 13 vs. New York and July 16 vs. Chicago). The fourth game was a "rain in" and occurred on June 15, 1976, when as much as 10 inches of rain fell in the Houston area, virtually flooding the entire city.

Only members of the Houston Astros and the visiting Pittsburgh Pirates were able to make their way to the Astrodome. Umpires, fans, and stadium personnel were unable to reach the ballpark.

July 11 at St. Louis.

- rebounded from his blown save on July 11 to earn his 22nd on July 14 at Arizona...the next night at Bank One Ballpark, he was struck on the left side of his head behind the ear by a line drive off the bat of Kelly Stinnett in the bottom of the ninth

- he converted his first four save opportunities in May to run his season-opening streak to nine straight...his first blown save came on May 21 against Cincinnati when he allowed the game-tying run in the eighth, even though the Astros won the contest 4-3 in 14 innings.
- his month of July was similar to April in that he did not allow a run until his final appearance of the month on the 29th against St. Louis...he pitched 12.2 innings before a two-out single by Delino DeShields drove in a run in Houston's 5-4 victory.
- August proved to be his most difficult month of the year as he went 0-3 with a 9.72 ERA and failed to convert his two save opportunities...he allowed nine earned runs in 8.1 innings in August, which was as many earned runs as he had allowed over the first four months of the season combined.

2002 SEASON: The Houston Astros finished the 2002 season with an 84-78 record, 13.0 games behind the NL Central Division champion St. Louis Cardinals. The club finished 47-34 (.580) at home and 37-44 (.457) on the road.

PITCHER'S PARK?: The chart at left shows the home runs and runs scored per game totals for both Minute Maid Park and Major League Baseball since 2000, when Houston's new downtown ballpark opened. Taking the totals of the past two seasons and comparing them to the totals from the 2000 campaign, runs scored per game at Minute Maid Park are down 25.2 percent and home runs per game are down by 40.6 percent. This puts Houston well ahead of the trend, as runs scored per game throughout baseball has only dropped by 10.1 percent during that time and home runs per game are down only 11.1 percent.

Minute Maid Park ranked 12th among all Major League ballparks in runs scored per game in 2002, while also ranking 18th in home runs per game. Additionally, visiting teams hit 70 home runs in Houston last season, a total that ranked the Astros home 24th in the Majors in that category.

HOME SHUTOUTS: The Astros ranked tied for second in 2002 in most shutouts thrown by the home team. The Astros threw 10 shutouts at home, tying the Florida Marlins, who blanked 10 opponents at Pro Player Stadium. Network Associates Coliseum was the only park with more home shutouts in 2002 than Minute Maid Park, as the Oakland Athletics tossed 11.

CLEARING THE BAGS: Jeff Bagwell recorded his seventh consecutive 30-homer season by belting 31 homers and driving in 98 runs during the 2002 season. Bagwell is the active Major League leader in career home runs hit playing his entire career with one team, and ranks 46th overall on the career list with his 380 career blasts.

DYNAMIC DUO: Roy Oswalt led the Astros with 19 wins and narrowly missed becoming the eighth pitcher in franchise history to win 20 games in a season. Oswalt is 33-12 (.733) since joining the Astros in 2001. Fellow right-hander Wade Miller finished 15-4 and set a club record with 12 consecutive wins from July 7-Sept. 21, a streak that tied Anaheim's Jarrod Washburn for the longest in the Majors in 2002. Since the beginning of the 2001 season, Oswalt and Miller are a combined 64-24 (.727), trailing only Arizona's Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling (90-24, .789) for the top duo in terms of winning percentage from one team, according to the Elias Sports Bureau. Oswalt was the National League Pitcher of the Month for August, when he was 6-0 with a 1.22 ERA (6ER/44.1IP).

FRANCHISE FIRST: Wade Miller's 12-game streak and Roy Oswalt's nine-game streak in 2002 marked the first time in franchise history that two pitchers had concurrent nine-game winning streaks. It is also the first time that two Astros pitchers had concurrent winning streaks of at least seven games since 1997, when Darryl Kile and Mike Hampton accomplished the feat. Kile had a 10-game winning streak from June 20-Aug. 22 while Hampton won seven consecutive from July 2-Aug. 12 (all according to the Elias Sports Bureau). The last time two Houston pitchers had nine-game winning streaks during the same season was in 1993, when Kile won nine from May 29-July 21 and Mark Portugal won nine in a row from July 11-Oct. 2.

ONE OCTAVE HIGHER/ETCHED IN STONE: Octavio Dotel finished the 2002 season with a 6-4 record and a 1.85 ERA (20ER/97.1IP) in a club-record 83 appearances. Dotel led all Major League relievers with 118 strikeouts and ranked second with 97.1 innings pitched, During the summer (6/1-8/30), Dotel was 2-1 with five saves and an 0.86 ERA (5ER/52.1IP) while striking out 69 and walking only 11. Astros reliever Ricky Stone set the club rookie record for most appearances in a season with 78, tying the National League rookie mark set by Montreal's Tim Burke in 1985.

LAUNCHING LANCE: Lance Berkman made his second consecutive All-Star appearance and served as the club's lone representative at the Midsummer Classic in 2002, when he hit .292 (169x578) with 42 home runs and 128 runs batted in. Berkman hit his 100th career home run on Sept. 15, a solo shot to left off St. Louis starter Matt Morris. Berkman is the 11th player to reach the 100-homer plateau in a Houston uniform, and was the fastest player to 100 homers in franchise history, having hit the century mark in his 452nd game in an Astros uniform. His 42 homers ranked fifth on the Astros single-season list. Only Jeff Bagwell (1997, 1999-2000) and Richard Hidalgo (2000) have reached the 40-homer mark in a Houston uniform.

BERKMAN MILESTONES: Lance Berkman is only the fifth switchhitter in baseball history to hit 40 or more home runs in a season, according to the Elias Sports Bureau. The others are Mickey Mantle (1956, 1958, 1960, 1961), Chipper Jones (1999), Todd Hundley (1996), and Ken Caminiti (1996). Berkman's 29 home runs at the 2002 All-Star Break were the most in the Majors since Mantle hit 29 before the break in 1956 and also eclipsed Jeff Bagwell's club-record 28 homers in the first half in 1999.

GREAT START: In his first 40 decisions, Roy Oswalt was 31-9 with a 2.83 ERA. According to Stats, Inc., Oswalt's win total was higher and his ERA was better than five of the game's best pitchers after the first 40 decisions of their career, a group that includes such perennial All-Stars as Roger Clemens, Pedro Martinez, Randy Johnson, Greg Maddux, and Curt Schilling.

SHORTENING THE GAME: The Astros were 71-2 in 2002 when leading after eight innings. Since Opening Day 2001, Houston is 148-3 when ahead after eight.

CAPTAIN KIRK: SportsTicker named Astros RHP Kirk Saarloos as its 2002 Minor League Pitcher of the Year. Saarloos, a third-round choice in the 2001 June draft, finished the season 6-7 with a 6.01 ERA (57ER/85.1IP) for the Astros during his first full season in professional baseball. At Double A Round Rock earlier in the year, he was 10-1 with a 1.40 ERA (13ER/83.1IP) in 13 starts, and he finished 12-1 with a 1.54 ERA (17ER/99.1IP) in 17 minor league starts overall in 2002, including a 2-0 mark with a 2.25 ERA (4ER/16IP) at New Orleans. Saarloos had a 10-game winning streak at one point this season for the Express. Past winners of the award include Josh Beckett, Bud Smith, Rick Ankiel, Bruce Chen, Brian Rose, and Carl Pavano.

Saarloos threw one of just two complete-game shutouts for Houston in 2002, a six-hitter on July 25 against Pittsburgh in which he walked none and struck out six in his fifth ML start and appearance.

2002 SEASON IN REVIEW

ARMS FROM THE FARM: Nine pitchers have made their Major League debut with the Astros during the past two seasons. Roy Oswalt, Tim Redding, Carlos Hernandez, Ricky Stone, Wilfredo Rodriguez, Brandon Puffer, Brad Lidge, Kirk Saarloos, and Jeriome Robertson each appeared in the big leagues for the first time while wearing a Houston uniform from 2001-2002.

OUCH: Craig Biggio was hit by a pitch 17 times last season, and he is the Majors' active career leader with 214. Jeff Bagwell ranks seventh on the list after being plunked 113 times in his 12-year Major League career.

LONGEVITY LEDGER: Craig Biggio leads all active Major Leagues in most career games played, all with the same team. Biggio has appeared in 2,100 games since making his debut in 1987. Biggio played in his 2,000th career game on May 28, 2002. Jeff Bagwell ranks third on the list with 1,795.

FIRST-HALF FEATS: In addition to breaking Jeff Bagwell's first-half home run record (28, 1999) by hitting 29 homers, Lance Berkman's 81 runs batted in ranked only one behind Bagwell's first-half record of 82 (1994).

Z-FORCE: Astros rookie Alan Zinter recorded his first Major League hit on July 1, a two-run home run into the Astros bullpen in right field off Cincinnati reliever Scott Williamson. The hit came in Zinter's sixth Major League at-bat, but it was the 4,706th at-bat of his professional career (4,700 in the minors). It was also the 1,421st game he played in as a pro (1,414 in the minors, seven in the Majors). Zinter recorded 1,203 hits and 212 home runs in the minors during his 14-year professional career. Zinter joined the big leagues for the first time on June 17, and made his Major League debut with a pinch-hit at-bat on June 18. The Astros purchased his contract from Triple A New Orleans, where he was batting .230 (51x222) with 11 home runs and 39 RBI in his 14th minor league season. The last position player age 34 or older to make his big league debut was Minnie Mendoza with the Minnesota Twins in 1970 when he was 36 years old. Zinter has played with six different organizations since signing as a first-round pick of the Mets in 1989 - the Mets, Detroit, Boston, Seattle, Chicago Cubs, and Houston - in addition to a stint in Japan.

FLASHING THE LEATHER: The Astros tied with Philadelphia for the National League lead in fielding percentage during the 2002 season at .986. Houston's 83 errors were the fewest in the NL and the second-fewest in the Majors, with only the Minnesota Twins (74) committing fewer miscues in 2002.

2002 SEASON AWARDS: The Houston chapter of the BBWAA named Lance Berkman as the club's Most Valuable Player for the second consecutive year. In addition to Berkman's honor, the organization also named 19-game winner Roy Oswalt as the club's 2002 Pitcher of the Year and RHP Ricky Stone as Astros Rookie of the Year. The inaugural recipient of the Darryl Kile Award was Jeff Bagwell. The Darryl Kile award is presented to the individual who reflects the qualities of decency and character represented by the former Astros pitcher.

JIM UMBRICHT

1962-1963 Born: 9/17/30 in Chicago, IL

B. R T. R

Jim Umbricht broke into the professional ranks with the Milwaukee Brewers farm system in 1953 and was traded to Pittsburgh by Milwaukee for outfielder Emil Ranko on April 6, 1959. He was purchased by the Houston Colt .45s in the 1961 National League player pool for $50,000 from Pittsburgh. Umbricht opened the 1962 season with the Colts and was one of the top relief pitchers in the National League. He posted a 4-0 record with a 2.01 ERA that year. He then made a remarkable comeback after a cancer operation in mid-March of 1963 and was once again one of the league's leading relievers with a 4-3 record and 2.61 ERA. Umbricht died April 8, 1964 at the age of 33. His number, 32, was officially retired on April 12, 1965.

DON WILSON

1966-74 Born: 2/12/45 in Monroe, LA

B: R T: R

Don Wilson is the only player to hurl two no-hitters while wearing a Houston uniform. He pitched a no-hitter on June 18, 1967 vs. Atlanta (2-0) and May 1, 1969 at Cincinnati (4-0). Wilson established the club record for single-game strikeouts (18) on July 14, 1968 vs. Los Angeles. He compiled a 103-92 record in nine seasons with the Astros and won a careerhigh 16 games twice in 1969 (16-12), and 1971 (16-10). He was named to the 1971 All-Star team. Wilson died on January 5, 1975 and his number, 40, was officially retired on April 13, 1975.

JOSE CRUZ

1975-87 Born: 8/8/47 in Arroya, PR

Jose "Cheo" Cruz played in more games than any Astro and ranks in the top 10 in every significant Astros career hitting category. He was the team's most valuable player four times (1977, 1980, 1983, 1984) and named a National League All-Star twice (1980, 1985). He started his career in the St. Louis organization but did not blossom until he was acquired by the Astros in 1975. Cruz made three trips into post-season play with the Astros, batting .400 in the 1980 NLCS against the Phillies and hitting .300 six times in his career. Cruz currently serves as the Astros' first base coach. His number, 25, was officially retired on October 3, 1992.

MIKE SCOTT

1983-91 Born: 4/26/55 in Santa Monica, CA

B: R T: R

Mike Scott is still remembered for doing the impossible: on Sept. 25, 1986, he became the first pitcher ever to throw a no-hitter in a clinching situation when he shut down San Francisco 2-0 to wrap up the NL West title. Scott, who began his career with the New York Mets, was 110-81 with a 3.30 ERA as an Astro from 1983-90, winning the Cy Young Award in 1986 when he led the majors in strikeouts (306), innings pitched (275.1) and ERA (2.22). He will also be remembered for his feats in the 1986 NLCS. Scott twice beat the New York Mets, limiting them to one run in 18 innings and striking out 19 batters. He became the first player from a losing team to win NLCS MVP honors. In 1989, he became Houston's fourth 20-game winner when he posted a 20-10 record. His number, 33, was officially retired on Oct. 3, 1992.

NOLAN RYAN

1980-88 Born: 1/31/47 in Refugio, TXB: R T: R

The all-time strikeout king and 1999 inductee to the Baseball Hall of Fame played nine seasons for the Astros after signing as a free agent on Nov. 19, 1979. Astros fans did not have to wait long to a get a glimpse of Ryan magic. In his first game as an Astro, he hit a three-run homer off of Don Sutton as the Astros lost to the Dodgers 6-5 in 17 innings. He helped the Astros to their first National League West Division title in 1980. He tossed his fifth career no-hitter on Sept. 26, 1981 against Los Angeles and posted one of the best post-World War II ERAs (1.69) in helping Houston to the second half title. On April 27, 1983, he surpassed Walter Johnson as baseball's all-time strikeout king when he fanned Montreal's Brad Mills. He led the league with a 2.76 ERA in 1987 despite an 8-16 record. He led the league in strikeouts in 1987 (270) and 1988 (228). Ryan made two All-Star appearances while wearing Houston uniform (1981, 1985) and was the owner of 53 Major League pitching records upon his retirement. A two-time All-Star, Dierker pitched the fifth no-hitter in franchise history on July 9, 1976. After one season in the front office and 18 as a broadcaster, Dierker became only the sixth manager in Major League history to win a division crown in his first season. By Houston standards, the 2002 season was a disappointment after the Astros finished with an 84-78 record, good for only second place in the NL Central behind the St. Louis Cardinals. Despite staying in the division race until the final two weeks of the season, the Astros wound up 13 games behind the Cardinals. However, the 2002 season was anything but forgettable for the Astros. Colt Stadium served as the home to Houston's first Major League Baseball franchise: the Colt .45s. The outdoor, single-deck facility was constructed as a temporary home until a domed stadium would be completed. It was in operation for three seasons, from 1962-1964, and was witness to two no-hitters, both by the Colts: Don Nottebart in 1962 and Ken Johnson in 1963. High heat and humidity moved many games to late afternoon starts and pushed the National League to lift its ban on Sunday night games. It was located in what is now the Astrodome's north parking lot.

By the time the Astrodome opened on April 9, 1965, for an exhibition game between the Houston Astros and New York Yankees, it was already heralded as the "Eighth Wonder of the World." The largest structure of its kind and the world's first multi-purpose domed stadium, the Astrodome came to symbolize the futuristic home of professional sports in America. In honor of Houston's significance to the country's space program, it was appropriately named the Astrodome, and to maintain the theme, the Colt .45s were proudly renamed the Astros. AstroTurf was developed and installed to start the 1966 campaign after natural grass was unsuccessful. It served as the Astros home for 35 seasons.

ASTROS VS. YANKEES

The first baseball game played in the Astrodome was Friday, April 9, 1965, an exhibition game between the Astros and New York Yankees. Houston won the game, 2-1 in 12 innings with Hal Woodeschick getting credit for the pitching win and Pete Mikkelsen the loss. A paid crowd of 47,876 watched the game and saw Mickey Mantle hit the first Astrodome home run in the sixth inning with the bases empty.

In an effort to link the past to the future, the Astros invited the Yankees to Houston to play the first-ever game at Minute Maid Park, Houston's new downtown ballpark. The teams squared off in front of 40,624 fans in an exhibition on Thursday, March 30, 2000. Houston again won by one run, 6-5. Yankees outfielder Ricky Ledee hit a pinch-hit home run in the sixth inning for the first longball in the new park. But a two-run homer by Astros outfielder Daryle Ward capped a four-run eighth inning as Houston erased a 5-2 deficit. Righthander Jay Powell picked up the win, while lefty closer Billy Wagner got the save. Yankees reliever Jason Grimsley took the loss.

30 HOME RUNS - 100 RBI - 100 RUNS SCORED

In 2000, Jeff Bagwell and Richard Hidalgo became just the second pair of Astros teammates to each record 30 home runs, 100 RBI, and 100 runs scored in the same season. Bagwell set clubs records with 47 home runs and 153 runs scored in addition to his 132 RBI. Hidalgo slammed 44 homers with 122 RBI and 118 runs scored. Bagwell paired up with Moises Alou in 1998 to become the Houston's first set of 30-100-100 teammates, and Bagwell and Berkman followed suit in 2001.

ASTROS HOME RUNS IN HOUSTON

On May 11, 1998, Jeff Bagwell hit his 98th Astrodome home run off the Marlins Livan Hernandez to put the first baseman one ahead of outfielder Jimmy Wynn, whose 97 Houston homers was the most by any player in the history of the franchise. Bagwell eventually hit 126 home runs in the Astrodome before the Astros moved to Minute Maid Park in 2000. Wynn hit 93 of his roundtrippers in the Astrodome and four in Colt Stadium during his 11-year career which lasted from 1963-73. And, speaking of Colt Stadium, the record for Houston homers in that facility stands at 21 by Bob Aspromonte.

HOUSTON'S FIRST HOME RUNS

The first home run ever hit by a Houston player in the National League came on Opening Day in 1962, April 10. Roman Mejias connected off Chicago pitcher Don Cardwell in the third inning with two men on base. Mejias also homered off Al Lary in the eighth inning with two more men on to account for the third Colt .45s home run of the game. Hal Smith had hit one in the third inning.

The first opposition home run came in the seventh inning of the same game when the Cubs' Ernie Banks hit one off Bobby Shantz.

ALL-STAR GAME #39 | ASTRODOME, HOUSTON | JULY 9, 1968

The 1968 All-Star Game reflected overpowering pitching. The two leagues combined for only eight hits and just one run, marking the first 1-0 contest in the history of the Midsummer Classic. The lone run — by the National League — was scored in the first inning on a single, an error, a wild pitch, and a double play.

Playing for the injured Pete Rose, Willie Mays led off in the bottom of the first and singled to left field. In a failed pick-off at first, Luis Tiant's (CLE) throw went wild, advancing Mays to second. Curt Flood (STL) was then walked, and a fourth-ball wild pitch moved Mays to third. First baseman Willie McCovey (SF) grounded into a double play, but Mays took advantage to score the only run of the game.

With the victory, the NL stretched its winning streak to six. The six-man NL pitching staff held the AL to just three hits, as Tom Seaver (NYM) tossed five strikeouts late in the game and Juan Marichal pitched two perfect innings. Nine pitchers in the game did not allow a single walk.

The game was the first played indoors and on an artificial surface, as many players got their first look at the Astrodome.

Los Angeles left-hander Fernando Valenzuela fanned five consecutive batters to tie Carl Hubbell's 52-year-old All-Star record, but, the National League's pitching triumphs weren't enough as the American League recorded the 3-2 victory on two home runs.

The NL pitching staff sat down 12 total batters, but the AL's Roger Clemens (BOS) had a strong night of his own. He tossed three perfect innings which included just three balls and 21 strikes. The AL bats came through at the same time as second baseman Lou Whitaker (DET) followed a Dave Winfield (NYY) double with a two-run shot off Dwight Gooden (NYM) in the second. In the seventh inning, Frank White (KC) came in to pinch-hit for Whitaker, knocking an 0-2 pitch from Mike Scott (HOU) over the left-center field wall to seal the AL's second All-Star win in the 1980s.

Valenzula tied the 1934 record for consecutive strikeouts, sitting down (in order): Don Mattingly, Cal Ripken, Jesse Barfield, Whitaker, and Ted Higuera

2003 HOUSTON ASTROS MEDIA GUIDE I HISTORY AND RECORDS

HOUSTON SELECTED FOR 2004 ALL-STAR GAME

Astros, Minute Maid Park to Host Major League Baseball's 75th Midsummer Classic

For the third time in the 40-year history of the Houston franchise, the Astros and the city of Houston will play host to the Major League Baseball All-Star Game at Minute Maid Park in 2004. In addition to the 75th Midsummer Classic, Houston will also be host to the multiple-event All-Star Week, which currently includes FanFest, the Futures Game, All-Star Workout, Home Run Derby and the All-Star Gala.

"Major League Baseball is proud to bring its Midsummer Classic to Minute Maid Park," said Major League Baseball Commissioner Allan H. "Bud" Selig. "It is a great ballpark in a great city. I am confident that Drayton McLane, the Astros' organization and the city of Houston will work very hard to make the game an unforgettable event."

"We are extremely honored and proud to have been selected to host the crown jewel of professional sports All-Star Games," said Astros owner Drayton McLane.

The 2004 All-Star Game will be the third the Astros and Houston have hosted. The 1968 and 1986 All-Star games were held in the Astrodome. The National League won the 1968 contest 1-0. That game was the first in All-Star history to be played indoors and was also the first 1-0 game in the history of the Midsummer Classic.

The American League claimed victory in the 1986 contest by a 3-2 margin, with Houston native Roger Clemens, then a member of the Boston Red Sox, earning the win. The host Astros had four players named to that National League squad: Mike Scott, Dave Smith, Kevin Bass and Glenn Davis.

"The city of Houston is the biggest winner with today's announcement," McLane said. "Having both the All-Star Game and the Super Bowl coming here is a tribute to the appeal of our city and a confirmation of Houston's resurgence as one of the country's premier sports cities.

"It's amazing to think how far Houston has come in five short years since we narrowly passed the referendum in 1996 to build both a ballpark and a football field. Without that referendum's passing, none of this would have been possible. Hosting an event of the caliber of the All-Star Game at Minute Maid Park is certainly a reward for the taxpayers and the fans, and an opportunity for Houston to showcase its revitalized downtown. And let's not underestimate the economic impact the game and surrounding events will have on Houston."

Houston has also been awarded the 2004 National Football League Super Bowl, marking just the second time both the All-Star Game and the Super Bowl will be held in the same city in the same year. Atlanta hosted both contests in 2000 at Turner Field and the Georgia Dome, respectively.

In addition to hosting the Major League Baseball's 75th All-Star Game, Minute Maid Park and Houston will be the site of several complimentary events which are part of the five day-long All-Star Week. These events typically include:

The Futures Game – Played on All-Star Sunday, the game pits the brightest of baseball's rising stars against each other in a United States versus the World format,

The Home Run Derby – One of the highlights of the All-Star Workout Day on Monday, fans will get the opportunity to watch baseball's top sluggers shoot for the seats and beyond at Minute Maid Park.

FanFest – Fans will enjoy the ultimate baseball experience with this interactive and educational exhibit featuring such things as instructional clinics; state-of-the-art virtual pitching and hitting simulators; autograph sessions; Negro Leagues and Baseball Hall of Fame exhibits; and memorabilia sales.

The All-Star Gala - Black ties and baseballs will be the order of the evening at Major League Baseball's premier midseason party on the evening prior to the game.

ONE MILLION RUNS

Former Astros player and general manager Bob Watson scored the millionth run in Major League Baseball history in 1975. Watson was on base for Houston when Milt May slugged a home run against the Giants at Candlestick Park on May 4.

1980 NATIONAL LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

In a one of the best League Championship Series in baseball history, the Phillies took the opener 3-1 on the series' only home run - Greg Luzinski's two-run blast in the sixth inning. Game 1 was the only game without extra innings.

The Astros evened the series in Game 2 - breaking a 3-3 tie with four runs in the 10th - and took the series lead in a Game 3 pitchers' duel that featured 10 shutout innings from Houston's Joe Niekro. Reliever Dave Smith continued the shutout and took the win as Joe Morgan's triple and Denny Walling's sacrifice fly off ace Phillie reliever Tug McGraw scored the game's only run in the bottom of the 11th.

The Phillies rebounded with their own set of extra-inning victories. In Game 4, a single and two doubles pushed across two go-ahead runs in the top of the 10th, and McGraw preserved the edge for his second series save. And in the finale, which featured three lead changes. Del Unser scored on Garry Maddox's 10th-inning double and Dick Ruthven held off Houston to bring the Phillies their first pennant in 30vears.

1981 NATIONAL LEAGUE WEST DIVISION SERIES

Because of a midseason player strike that forced a complete shutdown of Major League Baseball for almost two months, a split-season format and a new tier of playoffs were created after the work stoppage ended. This new format matched the Astros against the Los Angeles Dodgers for a best-of-five National League West Division Series.

Behind Nolan Ryan's pitching and Alan Ashby's two-run homer in the ninth innng, the Astros took a 3-1 victory in Game One. Houston then took a 2-0 series lead with a 1-0 triumph in Game 2 as Denny Walling stroked a pitch-hit single with the bases loaded and two out in the 11th inning.

Back in their familiar L.A. surroundings, the Dodgers managed to take control of the remainder of the series. They erupted for three first-inning runs in Game 3 and coasted to a 6-1 victory as three pitchers combined on a threehitter.

Game 4 turned out to be a pitcher's battle. Neither the Dodgers nor the Astros put a runner on base in the first four innings as Fernando Valenzuela and Vern Ruhle were in complete command. Both pitchers allowed four hits in the game, but Pedro Guerrero belted a solo homer in the fifth and Bill Russell added an RBI single in the seventh to give the Dodgers a 2-1 victory that evened the series at two games apiece.

Another pitching struggle ensued in Game 5. Nolan Ryan dominated the Dodgers until the sixth inning, when L.A. put together a three-run rally. Los Angeles starter Jerry Reuss threw a five-hit shutout in the 4-0 victory.

1986 NATIONAL LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

NEW YORK	(	4	GAMES
HOUSTON		2	GAMES

Houston pitcher Mike Scott defeated the Mets in Games One and Four and would have faced them a third time in Game Seven if the Astros had won Game Six. Houston scored three runs in the first as Bob Knepper shut out the Mets on two hits through eight innings. But in the top of the ninth. New York tied the game and sent the game to extra innings. No one scored again until the Mets put a run across in the 14th. Astro Billy Hatcher tied it up again later in the 14th with a home run just inside the left field foul pole. Two innings later, the Mets scored three runs. The Astros scored twice in the 16th, but fell just short as Jesse Orosco struck out Kevin Bass with two men on base to win his third game of the series and give New York the pennant.

In the series opener, Houston scored just one run off Dwight Gooden. The one run was plenty, as Mike Scott tossed a five-hit shutout and struck out 14. New York came back with five runs in Game Two to win behind Bob Ojeda, who gave up 10 hits but only one run. In Game Three, the Astros held the lead into the last of the sixth, when New York tied the score with four runs. Houston retook the lead in the seventh with a run, but Lenny Dykstra won it for New York with a two-run homer in the bottom of the pinth.

The Astros win in Game Four evened the series. Houston scored three runs by the time Scott allowed the Mets' only run of the game. Houston's Nolan Ryan gave up only two hits in the first nine innings of Game Five while striking out 12, but New York's Gooden also yielded only one run in 10 innings of work. Astros pitcher Charlie Kerfeld shut out the Mets in the 10th and the 11th, and the Mets' Orosco stopped Houston in the 11th and 12th. In the bottom of the 12th, Mets catcher Gary Carter's RBI single off Kerfeld ended the game and set the stage for the 16inning marathon the next day.

1997 NATIONAL LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES

ATLANTA ...... 3 GAMES HOUSTON ...... 0 GAMES

After winning their first-ever National League Central title and their first division crown in 11 years, the Astros were swept in the NL Division Series by Atlanta. Despite a two-hit effort by Darryl Kile in Game One, Houston fell victim to Braves ace Greg Maddux, who gave up only seven hits on his way to the 2-1 victory. Kenny Lofton's bloop double in the first inning manufactured into a run after two fly outs and teamed with Ryan Klesko's solo home run on the first pitch of the second inning for all the scoring Atlanta would need to win the opener.

In Game Two, a struggling offensive trio of Craig Biggio, Derek Bell and Jeff Bagwell, along with an uncharacteristic fit of wildness from starter Mike Hampton, led to a 13-3 Houston loss that put the Braves within one game of clinching the series. The Astros fell behind early, 3-0, but a two-run double by Brad Ausmus sparked a fourth-inning rally that temporarily tied the score. The Braves then scored a run after walking the bases loaded and opened the floodgates to a huge Atlanta rally.

John Smoltz dominated the Astros with a three-hit performance in Game Three to seal the Atlanta victory and the sweep of the series. He struck out 11 batters on his way to his 10th post-season win, tying Whitey Ford and Dave Stewart for the Major League record in that category.

SAN DIEGO ...... 3 GAMES HOUSTON ...... 1 GAME

The Astros 1998 season will be remembered as the most successful in the organization's 37-year history. The postseason, however, was a disappointment, as the Astros were eliminated in the National League Division Series.

The club entered the playoffs as the most feared team in the NL, featuring the league's most prolific offense and newly-acquired ace lefthander Randy Johnson. But four games later, it was the San Diego Padres who advanced while the Astros went home.

Johnson, who was 10-1 with a 1.28 ERA in 11 starts after being acquired in a July 31 trade with the Mariners, lost both of his postseason starts despite a 1.93 ERA. The Houston offense managed just eight runs in the series.

After Kevin Brown shut down the Astros' offense in Game One by striking out 16 batters, Houston bounced back in Game Two to beat San Diego 5-4, thanks to late-inning heroics by third baseman Bill Spiers. Games Three and Four, however, belonged to the Padres, who ended the series on their home field at Qualcomm Stadium to advance to the NLCS.

1999 NATIONAL LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES

ATLANTA ...... 3 GAMES HOUSTON ...... 1 GAME

The Astros billed 1999 as a season to remember, as the Astros played their 35th and final season in the Astrodome. Unfortunately for the Astros, the final memory of baseball in the Astrodome is the loss in the Division Series to the Atlanta Braves, After winning Game One in Atlanta, 6-1, the Braves returned the favor the next day behind a one-hit gem by Kevin Millwood en route to a 5-1 victory. A 12-inning, 5-3 heartbreaking loss to the Braves in Game Three gave Atlanta a two games to one lead entering the fourth and decisive game. Despite a come-from-behind effort during which the Astros erased a 7-0 deficit to inch within two runs of the Braves, Houston fell just short of sending the series to a Game Five, as the final box score in the last game to ever be played at the Astrodome read Atlanta 7, Houston 5.

POSTSEASON HISTORY

The Astros have made seven trips into postseason play and have lost to the eventual World Champions three of those seven times. Houston fell to Philadelphia three games to two in 1980 and the Phillies went on to defeat the Royals. In 1981, the Astros met the Dodgers in the Western Division Championship Series and again fell 3-2. Los Angeles then went on to defeat Montreal and the New York Yankees for the title. In 1986, Houston dropped the NLCS to the New York Mets four games to two and the Mets went on to edge the Red Sox for the World Championship. The four times the Astros have not lost to an eventual World Series winner occurred in 1997, 1998 and 1999, and 2001. In '97, the Atlanta Braves swept Houston in a three-game division series and then lost the NLCS to the Florida Marlins, who beat the Cleveland Indians in a seven-game World Series. In '98 the Padres beat the Astros, three games to one, and then went on to be swept by the New York Yankees in the World Series. The Braves experienced a similar fate in both 1999 and 2001. Atlanta beat the Astros in the 1999 NL Division Series (three games to one), only to be swept by the Yankees in the Fall Classic. In 2001, the Braves swept the Astros in the NL Division Series before losing the NLCS to the eventual World Champion Arizona Diamondbacks.

ATLANTA ...... 3 GAMES HOUSTON ...... 0 GAMES

The Atlanta Braves combined outstanding pitching performances with timely hitting en route to a three-game sweep over Houston in the 2001 National League Division Series. Atlanta starters posted a 1.77 ERA in three games while John Smoltz saved two of the three wins and the Braves bullpen as a whole allowed only one run in 6.2 innings pitched. Houston took a 3-2 lead in Game One, but Chipper Jones' three-run home run in the top of the eighth propelled Atlanta to a 7-4 win. In Game Two, Atlanta's Tom Glavine and John Smoltz combined to shut out the Astros while a second-inning error allowed the only run the Braves would need in a 1-0 win. The Braves closed out the series back in Atlanta with a 6-2 Game Three win that included home runs from Atlanta's Paul Bako, Julio Franco, and Chipper Jones' second homer of the playoffs.

6000 Airline Highway • Metairie, LA 70003 (504) 734-5155 • (504) 734-5118 (fax) • zephyrsbaseball.com

OVERALL: After finishing April 13-13, the New Orleans Zephyrs moved into first place in the Pacific Coast League's East Division on May 9 and remained there for all but four games the rest of the season. Unfortunately, a 5-5 record in the final 10 games allowed the Oklahoma RedHawks to catch up. The two teams finished tied atop the division at 75-69, but a Zephyrs loss to the RedHawks in the final game of the season lifted Oklahoma to the playoffs based on head-to-head advantage.

ATTHE PLATE: OF Jason Lane was named team MVP after leading the Zephyrs with 15 home runs and 83 RBI. Lane had two of the best Zephyrs outings of the season: he went 5-for-5 April 21 in an 8-6 win at Memphis, and he hit a grand slam and drove in seven runs on July 5 in a 10-0 home victory over Oklahoma. He made a trip to Houston midseason and then rejoined the big league club on August 24 for the remainder of the year. OF Barry Wesson also had a stint in Houston in July and finished the year batting .293 with 11 homers and 61 RBI before he was claimed off waivers by the Anaheim Angels in August.

ON THE MOUND: New Orleans led the PCL with a 3.40 ERA and 11 shutouts. LHP Jeriome Robertson claimed PCL Pitcher of the Year honors after leading the league with a 2.55 ERA (51ER/180IP) and 180 innings before a September callup to Houston. LHP Wayne Franklin, who joined Robertson on the PCL All-Star Team, finished first in the league with 141 strikeouts and third with a 3.12 ERA (62ER/179IP). Pitching coach Jim Hickey was named coach for the MLB Futures Game and the Triple A All-Star Game.

HOUSTON TAKES 23 IN EXPANSION DRAFT

After being awarded a National League franchise in October of 1960, the first step toward putting a Houston team on the field took place on October 10, 1961 at the Netherland-Hilton Hotel in Cincinnati. On that date, General Manager Paul Richards and his skipper Harry Craft made the Houston selections in the expansion draft to stock the rosters of the league's two newest teams - the Houston Colt .45s and the New York Mets.

Craft called "tails" to win the coin flip and begin the drafting process. A total of 45 players were chosen, 23 by the expansion Colts. Houston's selections cost the club $1,850,000 as it picked four players at the $125,000 level, 16 for $75,000 and three more for $50,000.

In something of a reverse process in the selections, the players from the $75,000 level were chosen first. Craft selected infielder Eddie Bressoud from the San Francisco Giants. Once the Colts and Mets had selected 16 players from the $75,000 pool, the price dropped to $50,000. Houston made three more selections, New York two.

That set the stage for the premium player selections in the $125,000 category. New York won the coin toss and took pitcher Bob Miller. The Colts opted for infielder Joe Amalfitano, also from the San Francisco Giants.

Five of Craft's 23 draft picks never played for Houston, including first pick Bressoud, who was traded shortly after the draft for infielder Don Buddin. Number 13 pick Sam Jones was swapped for Bob Bruce and Manuel Montejo. Bruce became one of the franchise's best hurlers in the early years, while Montejo never made it to the majors. Also never appearing in a Houston uniform from the original draft list were Jesse Hickman, Paul Roof and Ed Olivares.

STADILIM OPERATIONS

After 21 spring camps in Astrotown at Cocoa, Fla., the Astros decided to try something new in 1985. They cleared ground near U.S. 192 and started from scratch, building the state-of-the-art Osceola County Stadium complex in Kissimmee, Fla.

When it opened, the complex was hailed as the best of its kind in Florida, and its unique "cloverleat" design has served as a blueprint for many teams as they built new spring facilities – Kansas City, Cincinnati, Minnesota. The stadium and complex has been more than the Astros spring training home for the past 18 seasons. It has played host to many local civic events. The playing field at Osceola County Stadium was also recognized by Sports Turt Magazine and the Beam Clay Company as its Baseball Field of the Year for 1990-91.

The Astros opened Osceola County Stadium on March 3, 1985, when a record crowd of 6,742 saw Houston defeat the New York Yankees 9-6. This year, the stadium will open its doors once again against the Yankees, but with a whole new look. It underwent an $18.4 million renovation, featuring a new facade, new seating, expanded clubhouses and training facilities, a picnic area and a re-designed press box and concession areas. A recent lease agreement will keep the Astros in the upgraded Kissimmee facility through 2016. The team is currently riding on the sixth-longest tenure in the Majors at a Florida spring home.

Houston first conducted spring training in Apache Junction, Ariz., in 1962 and 1963 before moving to Cocoa in 1964.

$18.4 MILLION MAKEOVER

Osceola County Stadium just got a facelift – an $18.4 million facelift. New seating sections, picnic terraces, expanded clubhouses and training facilities, and a re-designed press box give the Houston Astros spring training home a new look.

In December 2000, the Astros and Osceola County reached a new lease agreement to keep the team in Kissimmee, Fla., through 2016. One month later, the State of Florida awarded the County a $7.5 million grant to help fund the major renovation project. The additional $10.9 million will be generated from local tourist tax, and the Astros lease at Osceola County Stadium will extend 15 more years.

The project was the work of the DLR Group, a Florida-based architecture firm that has designed several other spring training facilities. And fans will have their first looks at the new complex when the Yankees visit Osceola County Stadium for a 1:05 p.m. ET game on March 1.

Upon entering the gates for the first Astros home game, fans will notice immediate upgrades from the old Osceola digs. The stadium will seat approximately 6,000, and all seats are "fixed" — in other words, no more of those metal bleachers.

"It'll be better for fans as far as comfort is concerned," assistant general manager Tim Purpura said. "But it will help the look of the stadium, too."

Autograph seekers will be happy to know that the timehonored Spring Training tradition will be alive and well at the new Osceola County Stadium, thanks to Autograph Alley. This new feature is located down the third base line near the clubhouse, where the players exit to go down to the field. The spacious concrete region will give fans plenty of room to mingle with the team.

Purpura said Autograph Alley is similar to the grassy area by the home bullpen at the old complex, but it will be "more spread out" with better opportunities for fans to talk to players or obtain an autograph.

Other fan-friendly renovated areas include new concession stands and a walk-in novelty store. Overall, Purpura pointed out, the complex will have a more "dressed-up" look, with columns, arches, wrought-iron fences and Astros logos visibly displayed throughout.

Perhaps the biggest changes will be seen by the Astros Major and minor league players. The existing clubhouses were torn down and replaced with a new minor league clubhouse. A separate clubhouse was then built near left field to house the big leaguers. Both facilities were expanded to include larger weight rooms and training areas.

- Renovated stadium with modern-day, fan-friendly facilities
- New 24,000 square-foot Major League clubhouse with state-of-the-art training facilities
- · New 30,000 square-foot minor league clubhouse
- New chair-back seating for box seats and reserved section
- · Re-designed press box and concessions area
- · Picnic area along the first base side
- Party deck to accommodate private functions for up to 80 quests
- · New Autograph Alley
- · New playground for children
- · Two additional executive suites (four total)
- Two new multi-purpose meeting rooms
- · Renovated visitors clubhouse
- · Four renovated practice fields
- · New infield practice area
- · Improved parking areas

DETERMINING PERCENTAGE OF GAMES WON AND LOST: Divide the number of games won by the total number of games won and lost.

Minute Maid Passion

The year 2000 saw something the grand old game of baseball had not experienced since 1964 — a Major League team in Houston playing on natural grass outdoors. While clear skies and real grass were welcome additions for fans, Bayou City hardball faithful also enjoyed another first in Minute Maid Park's 242-foot-high retractable roof. Fans approved the new ballpark overwhelmingly, resulting in a record of more than 3,000,000 fans through the Minute Maid Park turnstiles in the 2000 season. The club has welcomed more than 8,000,000 visitors in the facility's three seasons of play.

A jewel in the crown of the majestic downtown Houston skyline, Minute Maid Park has become a welcome home for the Houston Astros and has ushered in a new era of Major League sports in the city. The downtown ballpark continues the proud tradition of visionary innovation in stadium construction, beginning with the club's previous home — the Astrodome. Minute Maid Park's retractable roof technology brought open-air baseball to Houston for the first time in 35 years, and the natural grass surface and classic architecture provided Minute Maid Park the atmosphere of the great ballparks of baseball's golden age.

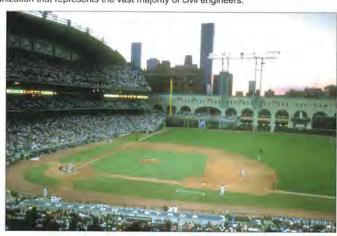

Approval of the ballpark, however, was not limited to the applause of the fans. Less than one calendar year from its opening, Minute Maid Park had already been recognized on a local, state and national awards level. Following are the first three major awards to honor the new home of the Astros:

Greater Houston Preservation Alliance, 2000 Good Brick Award. The President's Award was presented to owner Drayton McLane, the Astros and the Harris County-Houston Sports Authority for the renovation of the 1911 Union Station building. The Good Brick Awards are presented annually in recognition of leadership and excellence in historic preservation.

Most Outstanding Civil Engineering Project. This honor came from the Texas Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE), the professional organization that represents the vast majority of civil engineers.

National Honor Award for Engineering Excellence. This national recognition for engineering excellence came from the American Consulting Engineers Council (ACEC). This honor stamped Minute Maid Park as one of the Top 24 engineering projects among all buildings and civil works projects nationally.

LOCATION: Minute Maid Park is located at 501 Crawford Street on the northeast end of downtown Houston. Situated near the George R. Brown Convention Center, the ballpark is located one block west of U.S. 59 and is bounded by Congress Avenue on the north, Texas Avenue on the South, Crawford Street on the west and Hamilton Street on the east.

Astros

ARCHITECT: HOK Sports Facilities Group. Construction Manager: Brown & Root Services, a business unit of Halliburton Company.

HISTORY: The idea for a public-private financing drive for a downtown Houston ballpark was conceived in 1996. Fourteen leading Houston companies joined together to form the Houston Sports Facility Partnership. The Partnership agreed to provide a $35 million interest-free loan with no repayment due until 10 years of ballpark operation had passed. With the Partnership's initial commitment, the Harris County-Houston Sports Authority had the support it needed to present a ballpark proposal to the public in November 1996. Voters approved the $250 million project.

FIRST GAMES: The Houston Astros and New York Yankees played an exhibition game on March 30, 2000, with Houston winning 6-5. The Astros hosted the Philadelphia Phillies in the first official regular-season game on April 7, 2000, with Philadelphia winning 4-1.

THE NAME: On June 5, 2002, the Houston Astros and The Minute Maid Company announced that they had expanded their relationship to create a long-term marketing and community partnership. The multi-year partnership agreement included naming rights for the downtown ballpark, rechristening the field "Minute Maid Park."

The partnership agreement also stipulated that the popular Minute Maid Squeeze Play attraction at the ballpark will continue for the length of the 28-year agreement, along with pouring rights for products of The Coca-Cola Company, ongoing advertising and marketing programs, and a commitment by Minute Maid to support youth baseball programs in the Houston area.

The Minute Maid Company is an operating unit of The Coca-Cola Company and the flagship of its worldwide fruit beverage business. The Minute Maid Company has been headquartered in Houston since 1967.

Houston's downtown ballpark was originally named Enron Field on April 7, 1999, and was renamed Astros Field on February 27, 2002, by agreement of the Houston Astros and Enron Corp.

UNION STATION: According to HOK's design platform, the most literal tie between Houston's past and its new ballpark is a physical line to Union Station. The building is a symbol of the important role the railroad has played in the city's relatively short history, especially early in the 20th century. The director of Minute Maid Park's identity and graphics takes its cue from this period.

The railroad created Houston. Flourishing trade established a base of wealth and culture, an infrastructure of banks, a port and railheads. By 1910, railroads constituted the city's largest industry. In 1911, Union Station – already key to the rail industry's growth and influence – was redesigned and reopened.

Built at a cost of $500,000 at the corner of Texas Avenue and Crawford Street, Union Station was dedicated on March 2, 1911. It has been estimated that between 7,000 and 10,000 Houstonians passed through the front doors into the 45-foot-high lobby, which included three varieties of polished marble. By the mid-1940's, Union Station was handling 5,000 travelers daily on 36 passenger trains.

Team officials note that approximately 60 percent of fans enter Minute Maid Park via Union Station. Walk-up or booked Minute Maid Park tours, offered year-round, also begin in the Union Station lobby.

The second and third floors comprise the Conference Center, open 365 days a year and providing a wide array of meeting rooms that can give businesses and organizations state-of-the-art facilities. Nestled in different areas of the ballpark are additional meeting rooms and areas that provide the perfect atmosphere for a meeting or luncheon.

The Houston Astros executive offices are housed in the fourth and fifth floors. The sixth floor features the Roof Deck and Club House at Union Station, where private groups of up to 100 can enjoy the game and an incredible view of the Houston skyline.

TRAIN: A replica of a 19th century locomotive (circa 1860) and linked coal tender is a fan favorite. The train provides an architectural icon which combines sight, sound and motion for a dynamic entertainment and celebration feature. It also proves a link to the past for Houston and the Union Station site. The train was designed by Uni-systems and built by SMI & Hydraulics, which also provided the transporters for the retractable roof. Weighing close to 50,000 pounds, the train runs along some 800 feet along the low roof track on the west side of the ballpark.

SIZE: The building dimensions cover 28.97 acres of gross square footage, a total of 1,263,240 square feet. The height is 93 feet to the last seating tread, equivalent to a nine-story building.

THE ROOF: Architects from the HOK Sports Facilities Group recommended early on that a retractable roof would be appropriate for the Texas climate. Since building the first retractable-roof ballpark – the Skydome in 1989 – designers have crafted several kinds of retractable roofs. Some, for instance, open only over a small central section. The roof at Minute Maid Park, however, retracts completely off the ballpark to reveal the largest open area of any retractable roofed baseball stadium in existence today. A total of 50,000 square feet of glass in the west wall of the retractable roof give fans a view of the Houston skyline, even when the roof is in the closed position.

Uni-Systems provided the technical expertise to design the best roof structure for Minute Maid Park. Mechanized roof panels open and close in 12-20 minutes. The roof moves back and forth an estimated 160 times a year, a distance of 14.6 miles. To cover the ballpark, steel panels roll in sequence along tracks on the east and west sides of the stadium. When the roof is open, the southern and northern panels, each of which measures 537 by 120 feet and weighs 1,905 metric tons, rest at the north end below the large middle section with its dimension of 589 by 242 feet and a weight of 3,810 metric tons. Designers determined the roof's shape — lower side panels flanking the high center panel — by tracking a batted baseball's hyperbolic flight path.

Forged steel wheels measuring 35 inches in diameter transport the three roof panels. Each of the 140 wheels has its own braking mechanism and 60 are equipped with electric motors.

If the track is slightly out of alignment, all the weight of a roof panel could come to rest on one wheel, causing severe structural damage. To prevent this, a polyurethane suspension pad that acts as a spring is attached above each wheel to distribute the roof's weight. The low track/high track configuration and the roof's built-in glass wall not only offer valuable efficiency, but afford a panoramic view of the surrounding landscape unlike any other roofed ballpark.

PLAYING FIELD: Three wall heights, various angles in the corners and power alleys, a 10-degree, uphill slope – "Tal's Hill" – for a center field warning track, and a flag pole in the field of play create unique actions for any ball that gets past an outfielder.

Featuring Seashore Pas Palum grass, the playing surface covers 2.5 acres. The drainage and irrigation systems include 6,682 linear feet of perforated pipe and 4,406 linear feet PVC pipe, respectively. A total of 78 irrigation heads help make the job for head groundskeeper Darren Seybold and his staff much easier.

SOUNDS: A total of 400 speaker cabinets are scattered throughout the seating areas and almost 1,000 are found along the concourses. The speakers are distributed throughout the ballpark to have cabinets as close to the fans as possible.

TECHNOLOGY: Minute Maid Park was the first major sports facility to feature a closed-captioning board for the hearing impaired. The Daktronics black-and-white matrix board and Daktronics color matrix board present baseball fans with a unique experience at Minute Maid Park. The primary scoreboard, measuring 35 feet by 131 feet, displays player and team stats on the left side while the right features graphics and animation, including the recreation of several of the Astrodome's effects of yesteryear. A speed pitch board, four auxiliary scoreboards and an old-fashioned manually operated scoreboard keep fans on the top of the action in the ballpark and in every other big league venue. The stateof-the-art video board high atop Minute Maid Park is a product of SACO Smartvision, providing fans with unmatched instant replays and special video features and effects unlike anywhere in Major League Baseball.

SEATING: With visually redirected seats and baseballonly sightlines, Astros fans are as close to the action as any in big league baseball. Seats along the right and left field foul lines are only five feet from the line, while the nearest spectator along the first and third base lines can be as close as 43 feet to the game.

The overall seating capacity of Minute Maid Park is 40,950, featuring nine different seating areas: Dugout Boxes, Field Boxes, Crawford Boxes, Bullpen Boxes, Club Tier I, Club Tier II, Terrace Deck, Mezzanine, and View Deck. Each of the ballpark's four levels – Main Concourse, Club Level, Suite Level, and Upper Concourse – afford fans a uniquely different perspective.

Minute Maid Park's seats are a deep green to match the retro look and design of the ballpark. Approximately 6,500 seats in the Diamond Level and Charter Seat License areas in the lower bowl and Club Level include cup holders.

Fans sampling the various Minute Maid Park ticket options will find the following at Houston's new ballpark: seats on top of the action, various one-of-a-kind amenities like the Minute Main Squeeze Play, the patio in center field, and panoramic views of the ballpark and spectacular views of the downtown Houston skyline.

One of the most popular seating areas are the Crawford Boxes, located in left field. This area provides fans with a unique perspective of what it is like to be a Major League outfielder.

The Diamond Club, Club Level and Suites provide the ultimate in entertaining areas, while groups can take advantage of special mezzanine seating and "The Champions" party room. "Home Run Alley" is a 810-foot long fan arcade, including the fan-favorite "Conoco Home Run Porch" in left-center field that is actually over the field of play, and features a classic gasoline pump to keep track of the number of Astros home runs that are hit.

The Astros Suites, located between the Club Level and Terrace Deck, provide luxury and comfort for watching Major League games. Beautifully appointed with a bar/buffet, socializing area and closed-circuit TVs, the suites offer privacy and comfort for personal and business entertainment. Sliding glass doors open to stadium chairs, designed to seat guests in two rows.

Keeping with Astros tradition, children 14-and-under are still able to purchase a $1 ticket for seats in the Outfield Deck section.

Food courts and concession stands are designed to preserve the spirit of Houston's Union Station. Regional fare and ballpark favorites are located on the main concourse and in the upper deck.

SPECIAL AMENITIES: Inside the ballpark, the center field restaurant offers restaurant or outdoor seating for options for tans seeking fine dining. The Minute Maid Squeeze Play area along the right field line provides children with a fun, safe, interactive experience. The Conoco Home Plate Tower along Texas Avenue is a popular gathering point for fans, and it also features a carillon to provide music at appropriate times of the day.
